Attaching Notebooks while raising Support Requests

It is very important to attach the relevant notebook, when raising a Support Request about code.

If you have a query that falls into one of the following categories, you must attach a notebook in .ipynb format for the specific query you're having trouble with:

1) Notebook Code Debugging Queries

2) Project-related Notebook Debugging Queries

3) Code Queries due to Version-Related Issues

4) FileNotFound Error when reading the data into the Notebook.

5) Queries relating to Hands-on/Practice/MLS Notebooks

6) Project-related Doubts and Queries

It is not enough to merely attach a screenshot of a particular error or an issue in the notebook - this needs to be accompanied by the notebook as well so that the context of the error is apparent while debugging the issue.

By attaching the notebook, we can assist you better without avoidable delays in the query response, and it is likely that the number of follow-up queries required to address the issue will also be reduced.
